

DOING FINE WORK IN FOREIGN FIELDS

Dr. Lloyd, in Strong Address in Petersburg, Commends Labors of Missionaries.

PREPARING FOR CONFERENCE

Methodists Perfecting Arrangements for the Coming Meeting. Camp to Parade.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., October 17.—The Rev. Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, general secretary of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, delivered a most interesting and forcible address at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in this city, this afternoon, on the subject of missions, especially in the foreign field. In setting forth the power, extent and results of the great gospel crusade, and many of the obstacles overcome, Dr. Lloyd made an eloquent reply to carping queries as to the uses of money in foreign missionary work. The speaker paid a handsome tribute to the missionary work of women, and referred with special praise to the work of the Methodist Church at Shanghai. Dr. Lloyd was heard with the closest attention by a large audience.

Great preparations are being made by the Methodists of the city for the entertainment of the Virginia Conference, which meets here in annual session November 13th. Nearly 400 delegates are expected, the majority of whom will be entertained in private homes. The committee on arrangements is composed of representatives from every Methodist church in Petersburg and its vicinity, with the Rev. J. B. Winn, pastor of Washington Street Methodist Church, as chairman, and is actively at work preparing for the visitors. A contract has been made with the Stratford Hotel for the serving of dinner to from 300 to 250 delegates every day during the conference. Bishop Galloway will preside over the big assemblage, which will meet at the Washington Street Church.

The Atlantic Coast will also hold a two days' session in Petersburg, beginning November 17th. About 100 delegates are expected, a considerable percentage of whom will be from Baltimore.

Tartt Hearing Put Off.
At the opening of the October term of the Hustings Court to-day argument on the motion for a new trial for Elbert Tartt, the colored preacher, recently given six months in jail for an alleged assault on J. H. Mason, colored, clerk of the Harrison Street Baptist Church, was postponed until October 31st. Tartt, who was in court, is under a $500 bond for his appearance, which was to-day renewed. Several small criminal cases were disposed of, and the rest of the docket was continued until October 31st. Judge Mullen will be in Essex county next week, holding court for Judge Wright.

A. P. Hill Camp to Parade.
A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans will take part in the parade of veterans at the Jamestown Exposition Friday, October 25th, leaving this city for Norfolk at 6:10 that morning, accompanied by the Petersburg Grays as an escort. Major-General Stith Bolling, commanding the Virginia Division, United States of Confederate Veterans, will be in command of the parade. The march will be from the Monticello Hotel in Norfolk during the sessions of the Grand Camp.

First Spanish Peanuts.
The first new Spanish peanuts of the crop of 1907 were received here yesterday by Martin & Sons, commission merchants, from A. Cypress, of Marengo, Mecklenburg county, and were sold to the J. B. Worth Company, of this city, at $1 per bushel. The excellent condition of the nuts indicates that the crop will come in earlier than was expected.

THINK TOM BAISE IS GUILTY PARTY

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, Va., October 17.—There were few new developments in the Perrell case to-day. Officer Brook is back from Lynchburg, where he went with Tom Baise and William Anderson. These two negroes, he said, talked a good deal while going over, denying emphatically their guilt. He placed the two negroes in the Lynchburg jail. The police are at work on the case, and nearly all the officers are convinced that Baise is the guilty man, in spite of the non-identification by Mrs. Perrell. They have learned that the two negroes were at Yates store, at Dry Bridge, at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of the crime, and this, in spite of their positive declaration that they had not left the house that night. Other minor circumstances cause them to believe that the two did not know anything about the crime they have some knowledge of the man who committed it, and that they know a good deal more than they will tell. Several other clues have been followed up, but with no result, while the officers are following still.

A reward of $250 has been offered by Governor Swanson and a like reward by Mayor Wooding.

BUT TWO CONTESTS IN AMHERST COUNTY

These Are for Supervisor, and All the Candidates Are Democrats.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

AMHERST, Va., October 17.—The regular nominees of the Democratic party will have no opposition in the ensuing election in this county. The only contests in the county will be for the position of supervisor in Courthouse and Temperance Districts. In Courthouse District the fight is between the Rev. A. H. Moore and T. V. Richeson. Moore is the incumbent. He defeated Mr. Richeson for the Democratic nomination four years ago. Prior to that time Richeson had held the office for a number of years. This year both Moore and Richeson were candidates for the nomination. The result was very close. Moore's friends claimed that he was nominated by a small majority. Richeson's claimed that the number of votes was taken to the State Central Committee, which sustained the contention of Richeson, and held that there had been no nomination. The result is that these two Democrats are candidates against each other in the regular election.

In Temperance District three Democrats—J. H. Fulcher, W. A. Mays and A. G. Staples—are running in the regular election. This is caused by the resignation of J. V. Ware, the Democratic nominee, who was appointed commissioner of the revenue by Judge B. T. Gordon to succeed A. D. Beard.

The nominees in the county who will have no opposition are Senator Carlisle A. Strode, Dr. H. M. Myers for the House of Delegates, Otto L. Evans for Commonwealth's Attorney; H. C. Joyner, for treasurer; J. P. Beard, for sheriff; F. B. Tyler, for supervisor in Elton District; L. F. Parr, for supervisor in Pedlar District.

HIDING PARTY AND SUPPER GIVEN BY MISS INGALLS

HOT SPRINGS, Va., October 17.—Among the pleasant social events last evening was a moonlight supper and supper at Fidelity Farm, given by Miss Gladys Ingalls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ingalls, who were in front of the Homestead Hotel, forming a very pretty picture on horseback, riding off two by two up the main road. The supper was a jolly affair in the old stone farmhouse.

No Opposition to Lynching.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., October 17.—The time having expired under the election laws, in which prospective candidates may offer themselves for the General Assembly, it is now certain that the local Democratic candidates will have no opposition for election. Don P. Hatcher will represent the city and county in the State Senate, and Captain T. D. Jennings and Howell C. Featherston, the House of Delegates from the city and county, respectively.

NEW JERSEY'S DAY FEATURE OF FAIR

With an Ideal Day the Celebration Is a Success, and Governor Stokes Makes Fine Speech.

DISCIPLINES ALSO CELEBRATE

First Denomination to Have a Day at the Fair and Several Thousands Take Part.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
JAMESTOWN, Va., October 17.—Chief of the events here to-day was the celebration of New Jersey Day, and Governor Stokes and the big delegation from Jersey made the day a big success.

The formal exercises of the day occurred on the reviewing stand overlooking Lee Park, just after Governor Stokes, with Governor Woodruff, of Connecticut; Governor Cutler, of Utah; Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellison, of Virginia; Exposition President Tucker, Admiral Harrington, Director-General Martin and others, had reviewed a parade and witnessed drills by United States troops on the grounds. The weather was ideal for the outdoor exercises.

President Clarence E. Breckenridge, of the New Jersey Exposition Commission, presided and introduced the speakers. After President Tucker and Lieutenant-Governor Ellison had welcomed the visitors from New Jersey, the exposition Governor Stokes, an eloquent and polished speaker, was introduced to respond. His speech, in which he dealt with the historic achievements of his State and the Old Dominion, was one of the wittiest and best yet heard at the exposition, and he was frequently applauded.

United States Senator Frank O. Briggs followed the exercises with an address on the Jamestown settlement, and after him President Demarest, of Rutgers College, delivered the oration of the day.

It was expected that Governor Swanson would attend the exercises, but he was unable to do so. The New Jersey citizens to the exposition, both he and Mrs. Swanson found it necessary to leave at 11 o'clock this morning. Luncheon followed the exercises on the reviewing stand, and this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock the New Jersey Exposition Commission tendered Governor Stokes a reception at the New Jersey Building, which was attended by the several Governors here, and a large and distinguished party of Army and Navy officers and their families.

Disciples of Christ Day.

This was also a day of thousands of members of that denomination, including the delegates to the International Missionary Convention of the church, which closed last night, participated in the program of the fair. They assembled near the main entrance to the Exposition Grounds, and headed by the Exposition Band, paraded around the grounds. They attracted much attention.

The Disciples are the first denomination to celebrate a day at the fair. A remarkable spirit of enthusiasm pervaded their ranks. The formal exercises of the day occurred in the Auditorium, commencing at 1:30 o'clock, and every seat in the big building was occupied. The address was given on behalf of the exposition was delivered by President Tucker, and on behalf of the Commonwealth by Lieutenant-Governor Ellison. The orator of the day was the Rev. Dr. J. H. Garrison, of St. Louis, editor of the Christian Evangelist.

Connecticut Party Leaves.

Leaving Old Point Comfort aboard their special train at midnight to-night were Governor Woodruff and the official Connecticut party, here for the celebration of the centennial of the State. They go to Richmond, where the Governor will be entertained by Governor and Mrs. Swanson at the Executive Mansion, and the Governor's Foot Guard, of New Haven, will be entertained by the Richmond Blues.

HARRIMAN WATTS COUNT OF PROXIES

holders, was a tilt between C. A. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Sylvester Fish, Mr. Peabody is regarded as one of the most distinguished men in New York. A dispute arose as to the right to vote at the election of Fish. Fish made a statement of his position in the matter, and Mr. Peabody declared Mr. Fish was not qualified to vote. Mr. Fish said he was not qualified to vote, and Mr. Peabody said he was not qualified to vote. Mr. Fish said he was not qualified to vote, and Mr. Peabody said he was not qualified to vote. Mr. Fish said he was not qualified to vote, and Mr. Peabody said he was not qualified to vote.

Mr. Fish was passing from the room when Mr. Peabody arose and called to him. The life insurance man started to say that he was sorry for what he had said, and that he was not qualified to vote. Mr. Fish said he was not qualified to vote, and Mr. Peabody said he was not qualified to vote. Mr. Fish said he was not qualified to vote, and Mr. Peabody said he was not qualified to vote.

Mr. Fish did not check the speed of his exit, but shouted, "I have not the slightest interest in what you say. I am going to bed. Good-night, gentlemen."

When the crisis sentence fell upon Mr. Peabody's ears that gentleman collapsed in his chair and almost lost his supercilious dignity which so admirably fits him. "Oh, dear," he murmured, "Gentlemen, I assure you that I regret it."

Harriman, who had been watching the proceedings with interest and some indignation, let him go and we can get on to business.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad adjourned until 2 o'clock. No vote was taken on the election of directors.

NECK BROKEN: IMPROVING

Richmond Man Injured by Recent Fall in Norfolk Doing Well.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., October 17.—Mr. Harry H. Roberts, the Richmond man whose neck was broken by a fall from an elevator shaft here some weeks ago, is improving and it is now believed he will recover.

Since an operation was performed a week ago, which removed the pressure by one of the bones upon the spinal cord, the improvement of Roberts has been remarkable and the paralysis with which he was affected has rapidly disappeared. The patient is now able to eat fairly well.

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right

And Yet It Is the Same He Was Smoking With So Much Relish After Dinner, Last Night, at the Very Same Box, Too.

IT ISN'T THE CIGAR—IT'S THE STOMACH.

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition of the stomach and liver, the result usually of imperfect digestion. After dinner, the cigar usually put on the cigar and not where it belongs.

Such men are usually high livered, hard workers mentally, living under high pressure and high draught, and it doesn't take a great deal to disorder the stomach or render the liver torpid. They should make it a practice to use some tried and reliable remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The use of these tablets is not to be confounded with the patent medicine habit. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a patent medicine, but are composed of the very elements which nature provides the healthy stomach to do the work of digestion—pepsin, digestive glands, and bile. They are secret in their preparation—they are absolutely pure and therefore all the world uses them.

No matter how disordered the stomach may be, it will right itself if given the chance. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, in a fifty-cent package, or if you prefer a larger package can be had by sending your name and address to-day, F. A. Stuart Company, 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

SAYS SOUTH SHOULD PLAY BIGGER PART

Mr. Wyndham R. Meredith Expresses Views as to Capital and Corporation Control.

At a meeting of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, called last night to consider the advisability of sending delegates to the National Conference on combinations and trusts of the National Civic Federation, which is to be held in Chicago from October 22d to the 25th, inclusive, Mr. Wyndham R. Meredith, in a notable address, set forth the importance of having representatives at this great gathering, incidentally touching on several of the important issues that are before the country.

Mr. Meredith stated that chambers of commerce and business organizations from all over the South had been invited to attend this conference, and he hoped they would all be represented, as he declared, it is a well-known fact that toward the great questions of capital and labor, which are agitating the whole country, and in which all sections are taking the greatest interest, the South has always preserved an attitude too conservative and uninterested attitude; has always approached them in dilatory and unsatisfactory manner.

He particularly desired the South to be represented on this occasion, as the first day of the proceedings would be devoted to discussion of problems involved in the controversies between the State and Federal governments respecting jurisdiction now pending in the States of Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama and Arkansas.

Much Misunderstood.

In respect to these problems the South, he said, had been generally very much misunderstood. In the recent railroad rate investigation and its subsequent regulation, Virginia did not follow the too radical lead set by North Carolina. There the railroad men had gone not only to the railroad officials in the State, but also to the great financiers in New York who were backing the railroads, and threatened that the charters would be absolutely withdrawn if they did not accede to the wishes of the State. In Virginia a wiser course was taken. Hon. Allen Caperton Braxton, he said, went about it differently, and in a better and more conservative manner, for it was he, declared the speaker, who mapped out the course taken by the Virginia Corporation Commission.

Continuing, Mr. Meredith declared that he wanted this to be generally known, that he wanted the world to understand the position of the South, and to know that the Southern States are not opposed to the railroads themselves or to capital. But he declared, the misunderstanding of the South was her own fault, because she did not take an aggressive part in the affairs of the world, therefore she was the whole South, and particularly Virginia, to be well represented at the Chicago conference. He advocated naming five delegates, as five had been invited. After some discussion, it was decided to name five delegates, the names of Mr. Braxton and Mr. Meredith himself were suggested and adopted.

The National Civic Federation begins its sessions on October 22d. The first day will be devoted to the problem involved in the controversy between State and Federal government respecting jurisdiction; the second day, to the consideration of corporations—should there be national corporations? What should be the basis of capitalization? etc.; the third and fourth days to a discussion of just and equitable limits of restriction and regulation in transportation, production and distribution, and of the anti-trust act.

MISSIONARY INSTITUTE

Big Meetings Will Be Held in Richmond Next Month.

An interdenominational missionary institute will be held in Richmond from November 15th, through the 21st, under the auspices of the Young People's Missionary Movement, and will be held in the Second Presbyterian Church. The institute will begin next week on office for ea-

Overloaded With Reality.

There has been no statement of assets or liabilities, but it is said that the liabilities will total $3,000,000, although the entire debt is covered by assets that will net $1,000,000 or more. In a statement T. W. House says:

"The action taken by me was due to general stringency of the money market and the further fact that so much of my wealth consists of real estate, which, although of the highest and most productive quality, in stringent times cannot be considered a quick asset."

Butte Bank Is Closed.

BUTTE, MON., October 17.—The State Savings Bank closed its doors this morning, soon after opening. A run had been precipitated, because of a rumor that the firm of Otto Heinze & Co., of New York, and a large German bank in Berlin had failed. These interests are closely identified with A. Heinze in his copper mining operations. Heinze is the largest stockholder and a director in the State Savings Bank, which has deposits of $4,250,000. A large crowd gathered in front of the bank, but, considering the circumstances and conditions, was quiet and unobtrusive, although there were occasional cries demanding revenge on Heinze and his institutions.

SESSIONS OF DEPUTIES

made the report on the prayer book. The committee recommended that on the title page of the prayer book used in the jurisdiction other than the United States the words "according to the use of Protestant Episcopal Church in America" may be stricken out, and words describing local conditions may be used, subject to the approval of the bishop of the district and the presiding bishop.

The Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton, of Southern Virginia, spoke in opposition to the proposed changes in the title page of the prayer book. He said that he was averse to going into Roman Catholic countries and giving up the word "protestant."

Resolution Adopted.

Mr. Packard, of Maryland, urged that the proposed change was not an amendment to the prayer book, and therefore he opposed the resolutions. The Rev. Dr. Huntington, of New York, said that if an amendment was adopted, he thought that a Christian church was sending out a message that he was not worth converting. The Rev. Dr. Carey, of Albany, spoke in favor of the resolution.

The Rev. Dr. Collins called attention to the fact that the changes had already been made. He said that in China the prayer book had on its title page "the Holy Catholic Church," and the book did not contain the Thirty-nine Articles.

The delegates kept calling for a vote and declined to listen to further discussion. The resolution was carried, and, as amended, was sent back to the House of Bishops.

Negro Question.

The Rev. Dr. Huntington, of New York, for the committee on the colored race and suffragan bishops, stated that the committee had decided to recommend to both bodies that suffragan bishops be chosen who shall have a seat but no vote in the House of Bishops, who may be elected by the bishop or bishop or suffragan bishop in another diocese. He said there was no question of color, for the suffragan bishops might be black or white. Dr. Huntington announced that he would not dissent from the resolution, but he reserved the right to close the debate.

The Rev. Mr. Haupt, of Minnesota, offered to review the history of the episcopacy in America, but the house said "No." He favored the resolution. Dr. Huntington closed the debate, described a conversation with a representative colored man, who told him that the colored race wanted to keep as close to the white race as possible. He said that the white race could not get them out; that they could not abandon the negro when they could not care for themselves. He paid a high tribute to the character of the negro, and said he would do all in his power to make the world a better place for the negro in church, but that he would not make the measure because it was the best measure now to be had, and because he had an abiding faith in the Artemus Ward, who was the king bee of all humorists, said that he always ordered hash at a hotel, because then he knew what he was getting. And to know what you are getting means something. That is why mothers should see to it that a bottle of Gowans' Pneumonia Cure is always in the house. There are no Just-as-good-as-nothings in the world. It is external. It has stood the test. When you have a bottle of that medicine in the house you KNOW what you are using, and you know it will do what is claimed for it.

church, and did not believe it would forsake the negro.

Vote Taken.

The vote was then taken by orders, as follows:
For suffragan bishops—Clergy, 58; laity, 19. Against suffragan bishops—Clergy, 5; laity, 5. Divided—Clergy, 3; laity, 1.

Messages from the House of Bishops were read.

The nomination for the episcopacy of the Rev. Dr. H. D. Robinson, of Milwaukee, to be Bishop of Nevada, and the Rev. Dr. Frederick F. Reese, of Tennessee, to be Bishop of Wyoming, were received, and the house determined to sit in executive session at 3 o'clock Friday to pass upon the matter.

A small tempest was aroused by a message from the bishops in which the bishops, who purpose attending the Pennsylvania Anglican Conference were instructed to ask for information. Dr. Parks said he was opposed to having any connection with the English Church, although no one had a greater respect for the English Church than he had. His amendment was lost, and the message of the bishops was carried.

Unction of the Sick.
The house passed the resolution adopted by the House of Bishops on the subject of the permanent diaconate and the message from the House of Bishops proposing an office for the unction of the sick.

The resolution on the amendments to the constitution proposing "residence" for "domicile" was defeated.

An invitation was received from Miss Jackson through Bishop Ferguson to visit the negro exhibit at Jamestown Exposition.

The house then adjourned until 8 o'clock.

Night Session

The report on the standard Bible from the committee on canons was the first matter before the house. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That canon 40 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:
Canon 40.—Of the Standard Bible.

—The translation of the Holy Scriptures commonly known as the King James Version, is hereby declared to be the standard Bible of this church, and said translation, with or without the marginal readings authorized by this church, shall be the Bible for the use of the church; provided, however, that it shall be lawful for the ministers of this church to read the lessons from Holy Scriptures in the Morning and Evening Prayer, from the translation of the Holy Scriptures known as the Canterbury or Westminster Revision, or that known as the American Revised Version, in such editions as shall be approved by the ordinary.

Mr. George C. Thomas spoke against the resolution. He said he spoke for those absent ones, old people, who knew only the old Bible and to whom the revised version would come as a shock.

Much Opposition.

Dr. William Cabell Rives, of Washington, spoke in opposition to the resolution and urged that the question be not hastily decided and that the matter be postponed.

The Rev. Dr. Carey, from Albany, after reviewing the history of the revisions, urged that no change be made in this time.

Mr. Butler, of Central Pennsylvania, made a plea for uniformity. He said it was a great thing to go all over the country and hear the same words read in the service.

The Rev. Dr. John G. Bacchus, of Long Island, said that the people of this country want the word of God, not a defective translation, but the best and most scholarly translation that it is possible to secure. He said the schools would not use text books 300 years old, and he could not see why the church should use a translation 300 years old.

The vote was taken by orders, and resulted as follows:

For the resolution..... 40
Against the resolution..... 12
Divided..... 4

The resolution was carried.
On motion of Dr. Huntington, of New York, the house adjourned.

The president announced the members of the joint committee on Philadelphia islands as follows: Rev. Dr. Aleop, of Long Island; Rev. Dr. Cottrell, of Iowa; Mr. J. P. Morgan, of New York; Mr. Bayne, of Massachusetts; and on the joint committee on prayers for extreme unction as follows: Rev. Dr. Groton, Rev. Dr. Murdoch, Rev. Dr. Eccleston, Mr. Sturges, Mr. Hays, Mr. Joseph Bryan, and on the joint committee on the diaconate as follows: Rev. Dr. Williams, Rev. Dr. Galloway, Rev. Dr. Wood, Mr. Pepper, Mr. Robinson, Mr. McConnell.

On motion the house adjourned.
